MathSpeak 3rd Annual Conference and Exhibition
"Problem Solving – Curriculum, Resources and Tools"
Friday 27th November 2015 at America Square Conference Centre, London

About the Conference

The Teaching of Mathematics is evolving rapidly; qualifications are changing and expanding at all levels.

In the classroom today there is a growing spotlight on Mathematics and Numeracy. The demand for new approaches, tools and teaching for growing cohorts has never been greater.

With recent developments in qualifications, the focus on problem solving and the need to get your curriculum right, there is increasing pressure on Maths teaching.

MathSpeak is a mathematics conference that will appeal to Teachers and School Leaders. It provides practical advice and hands on sessions for those managing Mathematics staff and Maths resources at secondary level, those integrating problem solving into the curriculum, and those grappling with the new 21st century technologies.

This year's event will appeal to senior staff and in particular Heads of Maths and Schools Leaders, with interactive sessions and workshops to increase the value to delegates

Join us for what will be another fascinating and exciting event, and one at the heart of teaching Maths in the 21st Century.

The Conference:

Presentations and Hands-on Workshops from practitioners, experts and suppliers at the forefront of modern teaching of Maths in schools and colleges

Features

- speakers with classroom experience,
- resources and ideas to take away,
- practical workshop sessions for school leaders and senior Maths teachers
- 'brains trust' Q&A panel,
- exhibition of important providers,
- high profile key note speaker,
- opportunity to network with practitioners.

Speakers include

An exciting platform of speakers with first-hand experience from the classroom, service and system providers and leading awarding bodies

The Exhibition

Leading suppliers in content provision, systems and the support of Maths Teachers will be there to discuss experiences, knowledge & services.
